

THE DAILY PRESS.
SATURDAY.....AUGUST 4

(From All the Year Round.)
VENICE.

The lovely city married to the ocean,
Disturbs me with her image from afar;
A troubous motion
Of many waters, and other years
Dulls a long vision down to tears,
Made bright by distance and by night, which are
The highlights of a dream.

I stand alone like some silent tower or pinacle
By night within the lighted room where she
Be loves is shining;

She struts across a ruined wind-

Drum, and the drumming of the drum,

And reel, while waiting at the trysting-tree,

The tree cannot see.

See her now, this Chatterton of cities!

These cranes, these swallows, these birds of the South,

Crooning quantities;

And standing far away I trace

The hills, the heights, the lights, the lights,

And still the sightful sin and ill health

Seems sweet upon her mouth.

The seeds of love are running wild around her,

Her pride has given them to me, my waves

A spectral father stands above, and brave

The glory of her grave.

She took her dove from immortal nations—
The many winds brought wedding-gifts and loud

The words of peace were on her lips.

Her seas were dark with coming ships,

And as we gazed the bridgehead, crowns & and

And proud. The nations cried aloud.

The mortal sin fell upon her, and she trembled

Over her own sins, and over mine.

With pride dissembled,

She left her crowded streets and towers,

And still the sightful sin and ill health

Are music soft as sleep.

This admirable preparation is used cold, being chemically held in solution, and possessing all the valuable qualities of the best cabinet-makers glue.

It may be used in the place of ordinary mastication, being vastly more adhesive.

"USEFUL IN EVERY HOUSE."

H. R. REED & Co.,
PROPRIETORS, AT—

CINCINNATI
DAILY PRESS,
AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER, IS PUBLISHED
EVERY MORNING.
SUNDAYS NOT EXCEPTED.
BY—
H. REED & Co.

ONE CENT!

SEVEN CENTS PER WEEK

MAILED AT
Three Dollars and a Half a Year

OFFICE:
VINE-ST., BETWEEN THIRD AND FOURTH

OFF. THE CUSTOM-HOUSE.

The Proprietors of the DAILY PRESS offer to t o file a complete newspaper, into which more matter is condensed than is contained in some of the greater pretensions in size, and which they furnish at a price that brings it within the reach of every man and woman in Cincinnati, who are able to labor.

We ask a fair comparison of the PRESS with the other papers of this city or of any other city, and the judgment of our readers whether we do not furnish a paper equally attractive at one-half, or less than half the cost of the other Cincinnati dailies.

The DAILY PRESS, since it came under the present management, has increased rapidly in circulation, and has now probably as large a circulation within the city of Cincinnati as any other journal, and is increasing at a rate equal to the most sanguine expectations of its proprietors.

From its large circulation, and from its size which makes advertisements much more conspicuous than they can be in the large papers, THE DAILY PRESS offers the most valuable advertising medium in this city. Its advertising business has largely increased, and the columns are a respectable exhibit of the business and enterprise of the city. Its columns are especially looked to for a large class of advertisements of "Wants" and "For Sale," and for servants, etc., which almost invariably bring prompt answers. People who are out of employment, or who want help of any kind, can place their needs before thousands of the laboring and employing classes by a two-cent advertisement in THE DAILY PRESS.

The DAILY PRESS has also a larger circulation in Covington and Newport than the aggregate of all the other Cincinnati papers.

Business men in Cincinnati can in no way increase their business so easily and certainly as by advertising in this paper.

Business can be easily established for THE DAILY PRESS in any of the towns within a day's distance of Cincinnati by railroad, and carriers will find that a little energy and labor will build up a route which will be valuable to them, and the great number of a cent paper that can be distributed in almost any town, will furnish a handsome income to the other Cincinnati paper.

Witness—I do.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.

Defendant—That is sufficient; whether you have abandoned or adhere to your ancient faith. One more question. When you receive communication on parliamentary business, asking you to discharge a duty, or duty which you have contracted with that duty as a representative in Parliament, do you consider yourself justified in showing that communication to the party implicated?

Witness—It does.